Victory Loan Concert Heard By Large Audience On Sunday Evening; Brennan & Moores Speak of Britain

Pass Talent Heard in Variety Program; Unit Organizer Frank Aboussafy Calls Upon All to Purchase Bonds.

Judging by the crowd that squeezed its way into the Community hall on Sunday evening it would appear that Victory Loan concerts are prime favorites with young and old alike. Before the concert started the hall was filled to capacity and as the concert progressed listeners were standing practically in the street.

Talented artists were heard from Bellevue, Blairmore and Coleman, and Wm. White, chairman of the local War Finance Committee, was concert chairman.

Principal speakers were Doug. Moores, late of the RCAF and who had spent more than three years overseas servicing giant four-motor bombers; Pte. Irene Brennan, who a few weeks ago returned from Britain after several months overseas, and Frank Aboussafy, unit organizer of the local War Finance Committee.

Mr. Moores gave the audience an idea of where much of their money goes after purchasing war bonds. He estimated the cost of a single 4-engine bomber at $250,000. In one flight it used 1,000 to 2,000 gallons of gas. Each engine used 30 gallons of oil, each plane carried 3-ton and 7-ton bombs. In addition each plane had its air crew and ground crew. He then told of various other personnel attached to bombing stations, such as briefing officers who told the air crew their destinations on each flight and the targets to be attacked. He concluded his address with the statement that the boys over there are doing a wonderful job. They need a never ending supply of equipment and it was the duty of Canadians over here to see that funds were ever present to maintain that flow of supplies.

Pte. Irene Brennan stated that Canada, compared to Britain, had no rationing. In Britain clothing, food, yes, even handkerchiefs, were rationed. She stated she had spent most of her stay in Britain in hospital and had seen the boys that had "gone through it" for us. Some had broken backs, others broken necks, etc., but all had a smile. The Canadian Red Cross had been very good and had distributed parcels among the patients. The Red Cross is now putting the patients to work at needlecraft.

She told of seeing H.M. J. T. Dunbar, of Tex. Larrimore and Oliver Barringham, whom she described as having been very glad to see her, but not half as glad as she was to see them. "It's a wonderful feeling to see someone from the home town when you are so far from home," she remarked as she concluded her address.

Mr. Aboussafy related experiences on the battle fronts which had been told unit organizers at Victory Loan conventions in Calgary. He told of one unit that had been cut off for seven days by the Germans. When it had been relieved the men had been asked to "keep moving" and had done so unflinchingly.

When you have men like that fighting our battles, stated Mr. Aboussafy, you just cannot sit idly by and refuse to loan your money to the Canadian government in Victory Bonds.

A shout of joy went up from the audience when Mr. Aboussafy announced that Pte. George Derbyshire Jr. M.M., had been released from a German prison camp, Stalag 7A, near Munich, by American forces.

He thanked the speakers and artists for their presence at the concert, and as a parting note thanked the public for the reception given the canvassers and to maintain their purchases over the past seven loans with the same or larger purchases in the 8th loan.

Artists taking part in the concert were Donald Graham, Harry Drew, Ermina Petrin, Peggy McDonald, Alice Minunzie, Pipe Major Moore, Piper Myrtle Johnston and Louie Moore and Drummers John Moore, Paul Lavasseur and Nick Kobewka, Gordon Roper, Stanley Klish and Doug. Moores.

PASS QUOTAS:

Committee and Canvassers Elated Over Achievement; Public Threw Full Weight Behind Campaign

Joy reigned supreme in the local Victory Loan office on Wednesday evening as canvassers reported with heavy volume of sales, which added to the day's bank subscriptions, pulled Coleman ever nearer to its quota of $125,000. When the last team reported Unit Organizer Frank Aboussafy raised himself from his desk and with a happy smile shouted "boys, we're almost over!"

At 11 o'clock this morning sufficient subscriptions had been received to go "over the top."

Since last Sunday the volume of individual sales has grown greater and greater and on Monday evening 109 applications were turned in at the Loan office thus creating a new record. From Sentinel Power Plant alone 19 employees subscribed to maintain a magnificent record in Victory Loan purchases.

It appeared that Coleman citizens were more anxious than ever to purchase bonds. Canvassers tell of being accosted in the street by citizens in their respective zones asking why they hadn't called at their homes. When you have conditions such as this the loan was assured of success from the start.

There was a sharp decrease of call-backs, once again showing that the public desired to co-operate to the full. Decreased call-backs allowed more time for first calls.

Frank Coccione Arrives Home From Overseas

SGT. FRANK COCCIONE who arrived home on Wednesday morning from five years service with the Calgary Highlanders overseas. Frank first visited Hillcrest, where his wife and children reside.

He enlisted very shortly after the outbreak of hostilities in September of 1939, and went overseas with the Calgary Highlanders. He trained for several years in Britain and was with the Canadian forces when they went over to France. He has seen action in France, Holland and possibly Germany.

He arrived in Calgary on Sunday.

MRS. PETRINICK WRITES FROM ONTARIO

A letter was received at The Journal office this week from Mrs. Joe Petrinnick giving her change of address from St. David's, Ontario, to Queenston, Ontario.

She states: "We now reside on the Fisher Farms, famous for peaches in Canada and located along the Niagara River and Boulevard. General Brock's monument stands on guard on Queenston Heights a mile and a half away.

"The blossoms are out many weeks earlier than has been the custom for many years. It's too beautiful for words, just like a fairland, you have to see it to believe it. The fruit on the cherry trees looked like huge pop-corn balls last week.

"I hope this finds everyone well as it leaves us. Kindest regards to friends in Coleman. The Welcome Mat is out for anyone from home."

Geo. Derbyshire, M.M. Released From Prison Camp?

PTE. GEO. DERBYSHIRE, M.M. who is thought to have been released from Stalag 7A German prison camp which last week was overrun by American forces. When last reported George was in Stalag 7A and it is earnestly hoped he was among the 110,000 prisoners released from this particular camp.

No official word has been received either by his wife or parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Derbyshire, but this was to be expected due to the large job of recording the prisoners, furnishing the British, American and Canadian governments with the names of their respective men and then the governments to relay the good tidings to the next of kin of each prisoner.

Official notification of his release is expected within the next few days, however.

George won the medal by ignoring personal danger in order to attend to Allied wounded on the field of battle on the Italian front.

Bill Graham Expected Home On Saturday Morning

His mother received a wire from him on Monday stating he had arrived in New York on Sunday. On Tuesday a second wire was received stating that he expected to arrive home on Saturday morning, although he might spend a day or two in Montreal.

Bill went overseas with the RC AF on April 1, 1944, and recently completed a "tour" of operations over Europe.

Cardston Drama Club Won Lions Shield In Drama Festival; Mrs W.S. Purvis & Jim Allan Win Awards

Capacity Audience Both Evenings; Adjudicator Pays Tribute to Sterling Performance of All Artists.

It is with a quiet sense of satisfaction of a good job having been well done that Coleman Lions drama festival committee sit back today and reflect on the months of preparation and smashing success of the fourth annual drama festival which was held last Thursday and Friday.

Plays had been entered from Bellevue, Cardston and Lethbridge, in addition to local plays, showing that the reputation of the festival is becoming known farther and farther afield. The artists had spent many hours in rehearsal, resulting in stiffer competition. Pass citizens gave all the support required when on Friday evening a "sold out" sign was placed in front of the box office window despite the fact that Old Man Winter did his best to block roads with a wild spring snow storm. Thursday's performances had also played in front of a capacity audience.

Adjudicator Sidney Risk remarked on the excellence of the plays and dealt in detail with all.

Six plays were entered: two from Cardston, "Dark Wind" and "To Die With a Smile"; one from Lethbridge St. Patrick's high school, "Nellie McNabb"; one from Bellevue, "Kee Kee"; and two from Coleman, "Low Life" and "Ile."

"Kee Kee," "Dark Wind" and "Low Life" were staged on Thursday evening. "To Die With a Smile," "Nellie McNabb" and "Ile" were staged on Friday evening, all receiving warm response by the audiences at the end of each performance.

In his adjudication, Mr. Risk dealt in detail with each play. He touched on points and told how they could have been improved. He had a good word for the artists in the play "Dark Wind" but thought they started at too high a pitch and as a result they had found it rather difficult to increase that pitch when the play drove towards the climax.

With "Low Life" he was of the opinion that if the artists were not quite sure of holding and maintaining the Cockney accent they should have dropped it altogether as the audience's attention was directed towards the accent thus detracting from the play.

While not letting into the winning class the Lethbridge newcomers did very well. Lydia Turbing was praised by the adjudicator for her facial expressions during the play "Nellie McNabb." "She had acted every moment she was on the stage," stated Mr. Risk. John Komachuk was also praised for his manner and humor he injected into the play.

In "Kee Kee" a child's fantasy, the adjudicator thought the play brought out too much children at play rather than a child's dream. He acknowledged the amount of work that must have been done in preparing the children for their parts and touched on some points which, in his opinion, would have improved the play.

The play "Ile" was praised. The hester on the stage brought forth the statement that it was a radical change and had great possibilities. He thought the flaring action between Captain Kenney and the mutinous crew ended a little too suddenly with the Captain striking down Joe, the harpioneer. He was of the opinion that this action should have been built up in greater degree.

"To Die With a Smile," Mr. Risk described as a flawlessly acted play. All had pulled their weight and the spacing on the stage had been perfect.

In awarding the Lions Shield to the best acted play, Mr. Risk gave Cardston Players and the play "To Die With a Smile" the nod. The award to the best actress in the festival went to Mrs. W. S. Purvis for her great acting as Mrs. Keeney. In this role she had to play the part of a woman slowly going mad with loneliness on a whaling ship and finally going mad. Jim Allen won the award for the best actor in the festival. Jim had directed and acted in the play "Low Life," and although his play lacked the colorful heights of others in the festival his quiet manner and natural acting ability won him the award.

Mr. J. J. McIntyre made the presentation of prizes. Upon presenting the shield to Mrs. Alice Dowdle, director of the festival play, he secured her promise that her players would be back in 1946. The entire cast was brought on the stage and introduced.

Beautiful pictures of local scenes were presented to Mrs. Purvis and Mr. Allen.

Mr. McIntyre then thanked Lethbridge and Bellevue for their performances here and extended a cordial welcome for 1946. He also extended thanks to Mrs. R. B. Bergman, of Hillcrest, and Mrs. J. Morris, of Bellevue, for providing music during the intermissions. He paid tribute to Coleman Lions for its efforts in promoting the festival and wished it continued success in the future. To the audience he congratulated them on their behavior while plays were in progress. No fault could have been found for their conduct during the entire two evenings.

Following the festival the visiting artists were given a social hour by the Lions club in the Grand Union.

At the start of the second night's performance Mr. Sam Bannan, on behalf of Coleman War Finance Committee, spoke for a few minutes on 4th Victory Loan Bonds and urged all to buy to the limit of their financial means.

Clan Donnachaidh Society To Sponsor Dance, May 23

Proceeds to be Used to Purchase Pipe Band Equipment; Band Has Eleven Pipers and Eight Drummers.

Coleman branch of Clan Donnachaidh Society will sponsor a dance in the Community hall on Wednesday, May 23, for the purpose of raising funds to purchase equipment for the Society's pipe band.

Pipe Major Moore is the instructor and states that practices are in session five nights weekly to train youthful pipers and drummers. Once the training has been completed, this expected to be in the late summer of 1946, he will have eleven pipers and eight drummers in the band.

On Sunday evening in the Victory Loan concert three pipers and three drummers were heard in a medley of numbers. These same bandmen are also ready to take part in the V-Day celebration locally.

It will require a considerable sum of money to purchase equipment and in addition to the forthcoming dance it is probable that a series of dances and concerts will be promoted to raise funds. Equipment is not available in Canada and must be ordered from Britain.

British Colonial Policy

IT IS APPARENT THAT when we emerge from the present war, we shall find that the world has undergone great social, geographic and political changes, and that many of our former traditions and institutions no longer exist. Speculation regarding the nature of these probable changes has included much discussion concerning the future of the British Empire, and whether its structure will be affected by altered world conditions. There are some groups who believe that the Empire, with its widespread Colonial areas will not be consistent with the hopes for universal freedom as expressed by our leaders in the Atlantic Charter and on other occasions, and that the British Empire may be one of those institutions to undergo many changes when peace is restored. These opinions have come mostly from sources outside of the Empire, and Mr. Churchill and other British officials have frequently attempted to make clear their government's policy in this regard.

Col. Stanley States Facts

Among the most recent statements on this subject is one by Col. Oliver Stanley, British Colonial Secretary, who reviewed what he termed "certain misconceptions" about the Colonies. One charge with which he dealt was that "immense profits have been drawn from the Colonies by private British capitalists." While he admitted that there had been cases of large profits, Col. Stanley pointed out that there were also often big risks and big losses, and that all the money invested in the colonies in the last fifty years had been put into Government Securities instead, the investors would have realized about the same return. On the other hand, he stated that private enterprise had contributed much to the economic and social progress of colonies where there existed neither the natural wealth nor the capital for such purposes.

Ideals Will Not Conflict

Development has been termed "the corner stone of Britain's Colonial policy," and private investments, supplementing government funds, have contributed much toward building public utilities and establishing economic and social services in the Colonies. In 1940 the New Colonial Development and Welfare Bill was passed, providing for the expenditure of 480 million dollars by the British Government in the Colonies during the next ten years. In introducing this bill, Col. Stanley stated that there was little opportunity for "get rich quick" investments in the Colonies now or in the future. Britain's Colonial policy has been summed up as one of development, and of preparing the people to assume the responsibilities of self-government as such as they are fit to do so. British justice and free British institutions have been set up in every part of the Empire, and there is nothing in its structure to conflict with the ideal of universal freedom and democracy.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness of the rectum or passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get a package of Hem-Rid from any drugstore and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally as a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the new tender spots. Hem-Rid is pleasant to use, is easily recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic condition when such a small remedy may be had at such a small cost.

Military Man Commutes Regularly Between New York And London. The New York Times says: At La Guardia Field nowadays A.T.C. planes arrive from or depart for Europe at the rate of one every hour. A military man we know commutes fairly regularly between here and London via Scotland, leaving for business on Monday and getting home for the week end. The only hitch he says is that when the British Isles are fog-bound it may take him longer to reach London from Scotland than to reach Scotland from New York.

Ambulance originally meant a movable hospital and during the Crimean war it came to mean a vehicle for the conveyance of the sick.

Dull In War Time

Guardian Of Churchill's Privacy Does Not Have Much Excitement

Frank Lowe, Canadian Press staff writer, tells this story: Policeman Sam calls himself "London's St. Peter," he guards the gates of No. 10 Downing Street. Beneath the well-padded, slow-looking exterior of this policeman with 30 years' experience, is the answer and the muscle necessary to make his answers stick. But this custodian of Prime Minister Churchill's privacy is a humane man. His biggest complaint is that servicemen from Canada and the United States are barred from having a good look at No. 10.

Sometimes, if no one's around, he takes a soldier by the arm and leads him up the little street and lets him swim at the dingy, unimpressive, four-story home of Britain's prime minister.

"It wouldn't hurt them to let the boys have a look," he says. "After all, what could they do? Besides me, and my mate at the gate here, there's another copper at the door, a soldier in that there sentry box a couple of armed plain-clothes men in that arch across the street from the house, and another copper in the house itself."

Despite the importance of the job, Sam is not fond of the post. He points out that the sun never gets into Downing Street, except late in the afternoon when it creeps down from the closed-off, back end of the alley almost to the doorstep of No. 10.

But there's no heat in it then, and in winter this here heat is bloody torture. Eight hours of standing here is enough to give a man his death."

It's a dull post too, he says. In peacetime when crowds often marched from Trafalgar Square to No. 10 to present petitions or throw stones it was different.

But with the war on those things don't happen so often.

Best Of All

No Army Has Uniforms And Shoes Like The British

Joseph Driscoll, writing from U.S. 3rd Army in Germany, to New York Herald Tribune made this admission: No army in the history of the world ever fought through a year like this and a winter like the one just ended with such a low rate of non-battle casualties (meaning hospitalization because of trench foot, pneumonia, etc.). Our men weren't sick, so their uniforms must have been good regardless of all the derogatory talk one hears.

We will admit our marching shoe is inferior to the British and the German shoe. The difference seems to be in the system of tanning leather. Though not a tanner by trade, I understand we turn the exterior coating of a bull into shoe leather in four days whereas the British and Germans take four months resulting in closer pores and more water proofing.

U.S. uniforms as a whole are as good as any in the world, except the British. U.S. uniforms don't look as well as they should I don't know why. The difference seems to be in the rough wool used by the British. If our uniforms with cotton facings get soiled with oil or dirt no one can get it out, whereas the British uniform can be rubbed clean. And they are warmer.

Mr. Smith: "I understand your wife is a finished soprano."

Mr. Jones: "No, not yet; but the neighbors almost got her last night."

Youthful Father: "Our baby is beginning to recite 'Baa, baa, black sheep, have you any wool?'"

Neighbor: "And he's only eight months old."

Father: "Well, he doesn't say all of it yet, but he's got as far as the 'Baa, baa.'"

Rifle Instructor: "Do you know where you are aiming?"

New Recruit: "No, sir. I'm a stranger in this district."

Doctor: "You have nothing to worry about; the electricity in the atmosphere affects your system. That will be $2, please."

Patient: "I guess you're right, doctor; there are times when I feel overcharged."

Customer. This restaurant must have a remarkably clean kitchen. Manager (beaming): Thank you, sir; it's nice of you to say so. But tell me how did you know?

Customer (crisply): Everything tastes of soap.

Three young men had got to the hoisting stage.

"Look at me," said the first, "I'm six feet two in my socks."

"Maybe," said the second, "but I'm six feet four and a half with my hat on."

"And I can beat the lot of you," chimed in the third, "I'm seven feet nine—with my umbrella up."

A grouchy naval officer fell overboard and was rescued by a sailor. When he spoke of a reward the sailor said:

Professor—"Well, he has a nice way of closing the lid."

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q. The restaurant around the corner from my office has recently changed ownership. Under the new management the price of some specials has been increased. Is this allowed?

A. Definitely not. No new owner may charge more for any item on his menu than the lawful price charged by the previous owner. If you are certain some prices have gone up, report the matter to your nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office.

Q. I'm thinking of taking up tennis again, but I don't want to join a tennis club unless I'm sure of getting enough balls to play a fair amount of tennis. What will the tennis ball situation be this year?

A. Tennis balls made from reclaimed rubber will be sold through out the season, and no shortage is anticipated. The new balls, I am told, are about 80% as efficient as the pre-war tennis ball.

Q. What is the coupon value of maple syrup?

A. Until May 31 each valid preserves coupon is good for the purchase of one quart of maple syrup. After this date the coupon value returns to 24 fluid ounces per coupon.

Q. Are there any canning sugar coupons coming valid in May?

A. Canning sugar is purchased with a use of preserves coupons. Eight coupons will become valid on May 1. This coupon is good for half a pound of sugar.

Please send your questions or request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your selling prices, mentioning the May 17, 1943 issue to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

PROMOTED—Cpl. Muriel Shaw, Swan River, Man., has recently been promoted to the rank of sergeant in the C.W.A.C. Sgt. Shaw enlisted in February, 1943, prior to that she was employed in a munitions factory. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shaw, Swan River, she is at present serving as a Clerk at Ottawa Area Command.

GRADUATE—Every military district in Canada was represented in the latest graduating ceremonies held at No. 3 CWAC (B.T.C., Kitchener, Ont.)

Among them were many Western girls, including from Manitoba: Ptes. M. A. Charney, Mousinho; S. D. Cuddekerham, Brandon; M. J. Magill, Portage La Prairie; M. V. Mills, Winnipeg; V. R. Russell, Winnipeg; F. M. Tabak Pine River, and V. P. Thompson, Portage La Prairie. From Saskatchewan: Ptes. P. C. Allan, Tisdale; C. M. Barker, Oxbow; M. T. Caplette, Delmas; L. M. Carron, Wawask; A. M. Erickson, White Fox; M. L. Caldwell, Redlyn; M. H. Porter, Fernald; G. I. Colshaw, North Battleford; O. C. Tedrick, Vanguard; E. Wagner, Markinch. From Alberta: Ptes. E. B. Benum, Seven Persons; A. F. Heck, Coopers; N. M. Hutchinson, Wainwright; I. Miller, Provost; G. Moore, Red Deer; V. E. Waterhouse, Sullivan Lake; A. J. Morris, Edmonton; L. B. Price, Calgary.

SILVER SERVICE CHEVRON—Sgt. Sadie M. Murdoch, Saskatoon, is one of the few members of the C.W.A.C. entitled to wear a silver service chevron. Usually silver chevrons are not granted to members of the Corps as it was not formulated until the third year of the war. Sgt. Murdoch was granted the privilege because of four years previous service with the British Auxiliary Territorial Service. Educated in Saskatoon, Sgt. Murdoch went to England in 1938 to seek employment. At the outbreak of war she enlisted in the A.T.S. and saw the heavy blitzing of London and later the doodle-bug bombings. When the first draft of CWACs arrived overseas in January, 1943, she was transferred to them. She is currently employed at Canadian Military Headquarters in London. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Payne, Victoria, B.C.; her husband, Sgt. J. Murdoch is serving with the British Army in Italy.

Spring's Favorite Fruit

Umm yum! It's rhubarb time again! And you'll surely want to serve this rhubarb pie. True, the tart fruit may take a little more sugar than some, but start early to save the needed amount. The result will be well worth the sacrifice!

RHUBARB PIE

1 unbaked Bran Pastry Shell 2 tablespoons flour
4 cups diced rhubarb 1 cup sugar
1 egg 1/2 teaspoon salt

Prepare pastry shell.

Scald rhubarb; drain and arrange in pastry shell. Beat egg until light; add flour which has been sifted with sugar and salt; mix well. Pour over rhubarb. Place strips of pastry lattice fashion across top. Bake in oven 425 deg. F. about 10 minutes; reduce heat to 375 deg. F. and bake about 40 minutes. Yield: One 8-inch pie.

BRAN PASTRY SHELL

1/2 cup bran 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups sifted flour 1/2 cup shortening

Crush bran into fine crumbs; mix with flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Add water, a little at a time, until dough is moist enough to hold together. Roll out on lightly floured board to about one-eighth inch in thickness. Fit into pie pan; trim edges.

ANCIENT BOOBY TRAPS Booby traps were used as early as 1630 when baskets of eggs, fruits and other foods, as well as peddlers' carts were made to appear abandoned and blown up when enemy soldiers touched them.

AUSTRALIA TOOK MOST Some 70,000,000 words of press have been sent out from London by war correspondents since D-Day and curiously enough the largest number did not go to the United States which has some 400 correspondents in the European field but to Australia, which received 10,235,980 words. The United States received 8,628,450 words and Canada 3,565,680.

STRATEGIST OF THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND SAYS THE WAR IS ABOUT ALL OVER

WITH THE U.S. 9TH ARMY IN GERMANY, Lt. Gen. Kurt Dittmar, most widely quoted strategist of the German high command, has announced and told American soldiers the Reich lost the war militarily when it failed to stop the Normandy invasion and lost it politically when Hitler escaped assassination last July.

He insisted the war was bound to end in a few days and asserted there had been no Wehrmacht strategy for the last six months.

Correspondents had asked him his opinion of Allied tactics.

"We've made it easy for you since July," he replied.

Gen. Dittmar said Germany had suffered too many casualties to be able to continue the war after Berlin falls and added the highly-touted southern German redeunt was mostly a myth.

His favorite theme was that things might have been different had Hitler been assassinated. Had the bomb plot succeeded, he said, army leaders might have engineered a surrender.

Insisting Hitler was still in Berlin, Gen. Dittmar said the Nazi leader would either be killed or commit suicide there, that he would never face an Allied trial as a war criminal. The only important German remark since left, he said, was that sparked by the Gestapo, stormtroopers and cut guard which would cease upon Hitler's death. He said Reichsmarshal Goering probably had already been executed.

American authorities, although admitting the possibility Gen. Dittmar's surrender was an enemy plant, seemed to entertain little doubt the information he gave was genuine.

A member of the Wehrmacht for 40 years and of the German general staff since the war's outbreak, Dittmar helped plan and execute the Maginot line break-through in 1940. He was chosen to aid in strategy work for the general staff and has always been in closest contact with the German high command.

The 54-year-old expert disclosed he had never spoken on the air waves because of a bad radio voice. He said he wrote the scripts, however, and a Nazi captain faked his speeches for him.

DOES GOOD WORK

LONDON. The Royal Navy submarine HMS Storm has (disputed) a year along Japanese supply routes by sinking nine ships in one day, the admiral said in announcing her return to home waters. Commanded by Lieut. C. P. Young, 31 the Storm is credited with sinking 20 enemy supply ships, a destroyer and four escort vessels.

FOOD BY AIR

LONDON. Gen. Eisenhower announced the Netherlands will be supplied with food by parachutes from hundreds of planes and warned German soldiers they would "have to bear the consequences" if they attacked these planes on their errands of mercy.

REGISTERED COLLECTORS FOR WAR RELIEF NOW PERMITTED TO PROCEED WITH THEIR WORK

OTTAWA. The prices board will allow all organized collectors of war relief funds and relief with its national war services department.

Under the new regulations, all used clothing and other articles of wearing apparel collected prior to February 20, this year may be shipped overseas at once.

The new regulations reverse a policy which has been in effect since last January.

The National War Services department alleges it has been subjected to much criticism across the country because of the order stopping collections, whereas in reality it was acting only under directions from the prices board.

The prices board explains that was due to the appearance of numerous possible shortages of clothing and other goods for domestic use. The officials say they had to envisage the return of many veterans from overseas who would require civilian clothing, an order just having been issued whereby a returned veteran discharged to civilian life is entitled to a suit of civilian clothing and other required articles.

NEW AGREEMENT

The United States Gets Water For Irrigation Under P.F.R.A. Arrangement

REGINA. P.F.R.A. has made arrangements to give 2,000 acre feet of water to help irrigate the sugar beet and alfalfa areas at Saco, Montana. George Spence, P.F.R.A. director announced.

The water will be given from the P.F.R.A. reservoir in the Cypress Hills and will flow down Frenchman river across the boundary to Saco at the junction of the Frenchman and Milk rivers.

P.F.R.A. is asking nothing for the water thus given. "It is a part of the good neighbor policy between Canada and the United States," said George Spence.

The area around Saco needed extra water when a dam, which was built on Frenchman river, was not completed in time to catch this year's runoff. The dam will irrigate 3,000 acres of sugar beets and alfalfa when it gets operating properly.

Arrangements for the water from the Cypress Hills reservoir were made when a delegation of four Americans visited the P.F.R.A.

P.F.R.A. was able to grant the project assistance because of accumulated reserves of water at its Cypress Hills project. According to agreement Canada and the United States share international waters on a 50-50 basis. This means that P.F.R.A. can only divert half of the water flowing down Frenchman river, leaving the rest to go south of the border. More will go through now as a result of the new agreement.

FIRST IN BERLIN

Was Unit of Polish Infantry Fighting With The Russians

MOSCOW. The first infantry division to storm Berlin was a unit of the First Polish army which had fought with the Russians all the way from the Vistula river.

Rola-Zimierski, commander-in-chief of the Polish armed forces, disclosed this in Moscow.

The Poles, whose capital of Warsaw was the first large European city to fall in World War II, celebrated the entry into Berlin with a reception at the Polish embassy.

FIRST WAR PRISONER

LONDON. First member of the British armed forces captured in this war was returned home from a German prisoner of war camp, from which his country's troops liberated him a week ago. He is WO. G. F. Dooth of the R.A.F. He was shot into the sea and captured Sept. 4, 1939, the day after war was declared.

C.P.R. ORGANIZE FOR V-LOAN—One of the biggest Victory Loan rallies of the division started the Saskatoon division, Canadian Pacific Railway, off in the Eighth Victory Loan when Superintendent R. C. Wheeler, in broadbroad language, ordered "a clear beard and full speed ahead." Canvassers from all parts of the division pledged all-out support of every man and unit and two Air Force veterans, both of them company employees, Flight-Lieutenants Lloyd A. Carley, D.F.C., and Harold D. Quigley, told how much bend buying encourages fighting forces overseas. Above, top, H. C. Taylor, general superintendent, Moose Jaw, is seen speaking. Seated behind him are, left to right: R. L. O'Brien, chairman payroll section, National War Finance Committee; R. C. Wheeler, superintendent, Saskatoon division, C.P.R.; R. J. McLeod, Saskatchewan liaison officer, National War Finance committee, and A. K. Warner, assisting Mr. Wheeler with the employees' buying campaign on the division.

BIG THREE PLEDGE ALL-OUT SUPPORT FOR ORGANIZATION OF INTERNATIONAL SECURITY

SAN FRANCISCO. The United Nations conference glowed with a sun-like electric confidence after it had heard officially from the Big Three nations of the world.

Stettinius for the United States, Molotov for the Russians and Eden for Britain pledged themselves solemnly to the joint task of creating here in San Francisco an organization of international security. There were no reservations, no doubts, and no special pleading. The abundant crop of dark rumors which has grown up here seemed to wither as these men spoke, and the conference began, real business with a new and rising hope.

It was a moment of suspense, a moment which history will mark when the barrel-chested figure of the Russian foreign minister strode briskly up to the rostrum. About this man and his government the waves of rumors have been beating fiercely for days. Would he refuse all compromise and insist on the letter of Dumbarton Oaks? Does Russia really believe in the chances of collective security?

Molotov's answer was clear. Russia is here to make the conference a success and Russia's friends, all the friends of peace can count upon its co-operation in the "great cause". But the conference did not understand this answer at first for Molotov spoke in his own language, which is known to few delegates. He spoke in a booming, earnest voice, his square powerful head jerking up and down as he emphasized his points.

This remarkable product of the Russian revolution, this spokesman of the new Russia who signed a treaty of peace with Germany in 1939 and has learned and unlearned much since then, does not look like a politician or a diplomat. He has the air of an American business executive and speaks like one, in short clipped sentences. But what was he saying to the world in these 20 minutes of his speech?

A sandy haired man translated the significance of the speech and it was quickly clear to the conference. Russia had always stood for collective security but its voice was not heard before the war. Russia was still the sincere companion of the cause. But the next statement was what the world and the conference wanted to hear—Russia accepts the Dumbarton Oaks treaty as a short-term contribution to the cause. This seemed to destroy at once the fear that Russia would stand unalterably on the letter of Dumbarton Oaks, and it opened the way, if not for easy agreement on all points of dispute at least for compromise which can make a revised charter live. This was further emphasized when Molotov declared that Russia would listen to the voice and suggestions of all the friends of peace and that it could be counted upon in the project of maintaining the peace whose violation must never go unpunished.

But it was Eden who obviously stole the whole show in this first plenary session of the conference. The lanky figure of the foreign secretary, perfectly tailored in short black coat and grey trousers, moved casually to the rostrum. The handsome face was set in grim lines. As he began to read his speech the conference quickly moved in the emotion of a man who resigned from the British government and gambled his whole career for the cause of collective security. His voice rose towards the end, he flung out his arms in a gesture of appeal to the delegates, told them bluntly that they could not afford delay asked for a completed charter in four weeks and cried: "Let us do it now."

Moved by the attractive, rather boyish figure of the British representative and by the business-like and generous sentiments of his speech the conference burst into an extraordinary ovation which lasted for many moments after he had taken his seat.

Disputes Will Not Be Settled At Conference

SAN FRANCISCO. Representatives of 46 nations have gathered in the auditorium of the San Francisco Opera House seeking something the world has never found the way to permanent peace.

The delegates were launched on their task of planning collective influence that would prevent future wars by President Harry Truman who spoke by radio from Washington.

The president reminded delegates the conference had not been called to settle specific questions of boundaries, territories, citizenship or reparations. His warning coinciding with what Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada told a press conference, dashed the hopes of many lobbyists who came here hoping to have such questions considered.

Other voices were raised in expressions of confidence and hope that delegates will wield their polished tongues into one mighty voice for enduring tranquility among nations.

The delegates themselves appeared grimly determined to succeed. Under the massive vault of the opera house delegates listened to President Truman in silent awareness of the enormous duty resting upon them.

They listened, too, to a brief address by U.S. State Secretary Stettinius, temporary chairman, and welcoming words from Governor Earl Warren of California and Mayor Roger Lapham of San Francisco.

"No one of the large nations, no one of the small nations," Mr. Stettinius said, "can afford anything less than success in this endeavor. What the ones know too well what the consequence of failure would be."

Twenty million lives and $400,000,000,000 were lost by the nations involved in World War I.

Start Work On Cemeteries Soon; Plan New Road

Ask Co-Operation of Citizens to Repair Graves; Straighten Head Stones, Etc.

Councillor Cox has asked The Journal's support in appealing to citizens having loved ones in either of the two local cemeteries to co-operate with the council in cemetery beautification.

The council, as a body, inspected the two cemeteries a week ago, and made plans which will be executed this year. One problem confronts the council, however, and that is graves which are sunken or the ground support has shifted from under part of the head stone, unbalancing the latter.

Council would like citizens who own such graves to repair them. If they cannot find time or manpower they need only ask council to do this work for which they will pay only the cost of material and labor.

It is proposed to construct a new road into the cemeteries. Lanes inside the cemeteries will be clearly defined. Rock and debris will be removed and fences repaired.

Brake Testing Campaign Organized For Canada

Commencing immediately the Police are making a check of brakes on vehicles. Car owners are requested to have their car brakes examined and adjusted. Your brake—and the other fellow's—are often all that stands between safety and tragedy in traffic.

A cross-Canada brake testing campaign has been organized by the police in different centres and has won assurance of strong support.

It is just as important for your car to be able to stop as it is for it to be able to start; and that is where your brakes fit into the picture. Few realize the task brakes are called upon to perform. Every time the car stops enough friction must be created to counteract all the power the motor developed in getting the car up to the speed at that moment; enough friction to bring 3,000 pounds of weight or more to a standstill, smoothly and quickly.

Stand-up stops and "jack-rabbit" starts are alike wasteful. Much of the energy which you use in getting under way is stored up in the form of momentum which has a tendency to keep your automobile rolling even after the power has been shut off. Manifestly, a driver who uses the accelerator right up to the last instant and then suddenly applies the brakes is wasting the momentum "bonus" that the engine has built up. He is also subjecting his brakes and tires to needless wear, a procedure not to be highly recommended at a time when competent manpower to repair brakes or insert new brake lining, and when new tires are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. If sudden stopping has been one of our bad driving habits, now if ever is the time to let the momentum of the car carry us into the stopping position with a minimum use of our brakes. That energy might just as well be used in transportation instead of being used to burn up brakes and tires.

The coal you will burn next winter will have to be mined this Spring and Summer and hauled by the railroads to dealers' yards before harvest.

There will be plenty of coal if everybody cooperates by buying at once—and keeping the mines in operation.

Everything depends on YOU... Be wise. Fill your bin today.

DEPARTMENT OF
MUNITIONS and SUPPLY
Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister

"An army can move only as fast as its supplies." That truth is well established. Engineers and infantry need artillery support. All need ammunition... food... and they need moral support... proof that we, at home, are doing all we can to back them up.

Attack wins objectives. Support wins Wars.

And that is where we, on the home front, fit into the war programme. We must furnish support. We must buy more Victory Bonds.

Bear in mind that part of the money which Victory Bonds provide is used to buy foods which Canadian farmers produce and which is needed to feed our fighters and the fighting forces of our allies.

Victory Bonds are a good investment... the safest place that you can put your savings. You should buy them to have money for things you want to do when the war ends. (In case of emergency you can get cash for them.) All the money you invest in Victory Bonds comes back to you eventually. Meantime your bonds earn 3% interest.

O. E. WOBICK C. C. F. CANDIDATE Will Champion the cause of the Ex-Service Men

The C. C. F. will assist the ex-service men and women to gain a firm foothold in expanding productive enterprise with the following measures:

- Until satisfactory re-establishment is assured post-war discharge pay at a scale sufficient to ensure adequate standards of health and comfort.
- Complete reform of pensions administration to eliminate red-tape and delays.
- Pensions for dependents at a scale that ensures them a decent standard of living and full educational opportunities for children.
- Adequate pensions and care for all disabilities arising out of military service anywhere.
- For all those who have served in an actual theatre of war, a life-time right to medical examination, treatment, hospitalization, and maintenance when required.
- Extension of the same pension and medical benefits to veterans of other wars.
- Education and training facilities with adequate living allowances available to all.
- Financial aid on a scale and with plans that will ensure the success of those qualified to engage in farming, fishing, and other chosen enterprises.
- Veteran's participation on all re-establishment and pensions boards.

T.B. X-Ray Clinic Notes

The high school students are busy this week completing the house to house canvass of Coleman and district to record the names of all citizens desiring to be X-rayed when the clinic arrives here next Thursday.

It is planned to have the canvass completed by Friday evening (tomorrow night). Should anyone have been missed who desire to attend the clinic they MUST get in touch with A. Balloch on Saturday morning and have their names recorded.

This week end the cards will be sorted and a time schedule drafted which will adhere as closely as possible to the times that are recorded on the request cards. Those on afternoon shift next week will be asked to attend the clinic in the morning; those on morning shift will be given a time schedule calling for their presence in the evening.

The committee has to secure the services of several young ladies of pleasing personality to aid with the X-ray services. Anyone who can give their services for one, two or even three days would be doing their community a real public service and earn the gratitude of the local committee. Here again the names should be given to A. Balloch at The Journal office.

Time schedule cards should be placed in the mail on either Monday or Tuesday mornings. Watch for them. Failing to receive a card your name must have been overlooked and should be brought to the attention of the committee at once.

Be sure that YOU attend the X-ray clinic. Much time and effort was required getting it to visit Coleman. The more that attend the clinic the greater its success will be.

The Progressive Conservative Party's Program For The Armed Forces

WE WILL PROVIDE FOR THE ARMED FORCES

WHILE IN SERVICE

We Will Provide:

Protection for soldier debtors against legal action for a sufficient period after the end of the war to give veterans time to readjust themselves

A plan for contributory insurance for the armed forces in the event of death or disability. This will also apply to merchant navy personnel.

A housing scheme of ample accommodation for the families of all serving in the armed forces.

Modern hospitals of highest standards for treatment of the sick and the wounded.

Convalescent hospitals for disabled men and women.

All war veterans living in Canada with free treatment; hospitalization with adequate allowances.

DEMOBILIZATION

We Will:

Establish "first in, first out" and "first overseas, first back" principle of demobilization.

Provide allowances sufficient to purchase complete outfits of civilian winter and working clothes.

Pay cash grants to all service personnel according to length of service.

Provide gainful employment for all personnel who have worn the Canadian uniform.

Continue the Department of Veterans' Affairs, instigated by this Party. Representatives of service personnel will be consulted on all matters affecting their welfare.

See that no veteran is set up on a farm where there is no chance of success.

Raise limitations on property values acquired by a veteran so as to guarantee productive units for decent living.

Institute housing programs whereby veterans in urban centres would be placed in as favorable a position of home-owning as those on farms.

Provide low interest loans to start businesses and purchase tools and equipment for any calling or profession.

FOR DISABLED VETERANS

We Will:

Immediately redraft the present Pensions Act.

Give benefits the status of law, not just departmental regulations.

Increase the Pensions Commission so that the most rapid attention possible will be given all claims. Radically change the system of appeals from the commission's decisions to do away with delays.

Pay to the women's forces pensions on the same scale as those payable to men.

Accept the recorded condition of personnel on enlistment as sufficient proof of determining disability pension. Any subsequent deterioration will be assumed due to service. Benefit of doubt will be given to veteran.

Raise scale of pensions paid to veterans from grudging levels of what is the least amount that might be paid to levels of what is right and proper to pay.

Cut out red tape and face facts with sympathy and action while meeting legal and other technical requirements.

Provide for all who have become casualties during their service.

"To those who bore arms in our defence, I say they shall not be handicapped in days of peace because they responded to the nation's call in times of war."—JOHN BRACKEN.

Nazis Were Not Able To Conceal Much From Allied Troops

First the Yanks studied out Germany's entire gold hoard, plus billions in folding money and priceless paintings. Then they found the Nazis who had stolen most of the manuscripts and art treasures belonging to German Jewry. And about the same time British troops came upon Hermann Goering's superb de luxe custom-built automobile. Maybe the Germans did invent Santa Claus and originate our manner of celebrating Christmas. But they've fallen down badly on one tradition, they just don't seem to be able to hide the presents very well. Ottawa Citizens.

1 KINGS 9:1 And it came to pass, when Solomon had finished the building of the house of Jehovah, and the king's house, and all Solomon's desire which he was pleased to do, 2 that Jehovah appeared to Solomon the second time, as he had appeared unto him at Gibeon. 3 And Jehovah said unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and thy supplication, that thou hast made before me: I have hallowed this house, which thou hast built, to put my name there for ever; and mine eyes and my heart shall be there perpetually. 4 And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, in integrity of heart, and in uprightness, to do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my statutes and mine ordinances; 5 then I will establish the throne of thy kingdom over Israel for ever according as I promised thee. David thy father, saying, 'There shall not fail thee a man upon the throne of Israel.' 6 But if ye shall turn away from following me, ye or your children, and not keep my commandments, and my statutes which I have set before you, but shall go and serve other gods and worship them; 7 then I will cut off Israel out of the land which I have given them; and this house which I have hallowed for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and Israel shall be a proverb and a by word among all peoples. 114 For it came to pass, when Solomon was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods; and his heart was not perfect with Jehovah his God, as was the heart of David his father. 11 Wherefore Jehovah said unto Solomon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded thee, I will surely send the Kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant.

Gardening Note

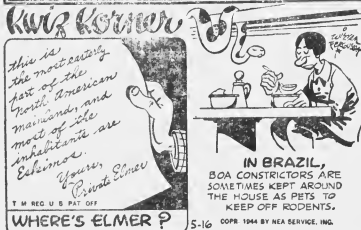

Gardeners who plant tomatoes this spring can assure themselves a year-round supply of vitamin C. Garden experts say that rows of tomatoes should be 18 inches apart with 36 inches between the plants, except for staked tomatoes which should be in rows 36 inches apart.

The long tomato plants, the experienced gardener calls them leggy plants, ought to be planted in a sloping position with soil covering both stem and roots, leaving six or eight inches of the plant above the ground.

Stockings made of steel . . . Suits that can brave a rainstorm and remain fresh, pressed and unrumpled. . . . Lacy, ruffled collars and cuffs that can be dunked at night and need no ironing. . . . Wool sweaters, wool dresses, wool stockings that can be tossed in the washing machine and never shrink. . . . Chiffon nightgowns as strong as reinforced concrete. . . . Slacks that never lose their crease. . . . And of course those dear antiques, two way stretch girdles and real nylon.

These are the things already promised in the post-war world of fashion. But what of the fascinating impossibilities?

Will the New Woman appear as a Girl from Mars, in streamlined plastic clothing that can be wiped off with a damp cloth, change its colors with her mood and perhaps sprout a handy parachute when she wants to drop in on a friend from the community air taxi?

Husbands who used to grumble at Fifth Avenue shopping trips must now be prepared for bargain hunting trips that include a hop to Russia for those new pink sables, a stop in China for a pure silk scarf, a little pleasant shopping around in Calcutta for a few fabulous jewels, a look at Turkey for rugs, France for perfume, England for tweeds, Sweden for ski togs and Hawaii for the latest thing in beach wear. Even Utopia may have its complications.

Remarkable Discovery

New Weed Killer Destroys Weeds But Leaves Crop Unharmed

A new and revolutionary weed-killer, which kills weeds while leaving grass and cereal crops unharmed, has been discovered by research scientists in the United Kingdom. The weed-killer, which is known as Methoxone, is now being tried out on a nation wide basis. An outstanding factor in this remarkable discovery is that weeds can be eliminated in the early stages of growth so that they have no chance to rob the crop of the food available in the soil.

Some pineapples have been known to attain a weight of 17 pounds.

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Ranch Dickee picked up the letter for the fifteenth time, plopped his size twelve oxfords on his desk, leaned back in his swivel chair and howled. Outside, nervously twitching, his worn baseball cap, nudged Bob Kohler, prize rookie sensation of the year. He wasn't laughing. He wasn't even smiling.

The tall, lanky, countrybred athlete, bronzed by the suns of a Florida training camp and his Iowa farmland, rubbed his arm as he sat beside the door marked "Private." Dickee, owner and president of the Red Birds Baseball Club, Inc., would call him into the office when he stopped laughing. And he didn't want to go inside. He had a sneaking suspicion that all was not well.

His thoughts raced back to the day just six months before when he had hopped off the Florida bus, near the training camp of the Red Birds. In his shirt pocket he carried a letter. His glove neatly folded, was in his hip pocket, a pair of spiked shoes under his arm.

He had waited two years for this moment. Ever since the day when, pitching for East Valley High School, he had retired the enemy with no runs after the bases were loaded and none out. He remembered how the coach had slapped him on the back. "You've got a nice ball, Bob. You'll get plenty of chance to use it from now on."

And he had. Two two-hit games and one one-hitter followed. His control was good. He used his head. East Valley High swept into the Big Six championship without losing a game.

In the summer that followed Bob worked as sports reporter for the Clarion. Then came another school year and another summer of work on the paper. They made him Sports Editor, a fancy title—but no raise in pay. That was the summer he sent the first telegram to Dickee.

He was graduated the next February, counted his savings and consulted time-tables. He sent off more letters and telegrams, then headed South.

When he heard the ten-foot fence that shut out the rest of the world from the winter-weary hall players, his heart was beating like a Gab Calloway drum. He still tingled at the thrill he had when he walked into the gate. Some forty or fifty dusty uniformed youngsters were trotting around the field in unison.

"Hey, you," a gruff voice bellowed. "Are you a ball player?" Bob looked up. A bespectacled, darkly tanned man in a gray uniform was pointing at him.

"Sure, sure," rejoined Bob. "O.K., then; fall in. Once around with the rest of them." Bob joined the runners, then followed them to the showers.

"Everybody back at 1:30 sharp," the man in gray shouted. "What's your name?" he asked Bob kindly. Bob told him, handed over the letter he carried in his pocket.

"I'm Burt Shott, manager." The man extended a welcoming hand. "So you want to get into organized ball, eh? Had any experience?" "I won eighteen straight in two years at East Valley."

"Well, well, East Valley, huh? Fine. Believe I've already got some dope on you." Bob could feel the burning red creeping up the back of his neck. His ears seemed about to pop off. Shott studied a folder.

"Highly recommended, eh Well, well, I'll give you a tryout. Report to Nick this afternoon. He's handling the pitchers. Good luck."

His head whirling, his tongue dry and his legs weak, Bob sat on the bench. At last he was going to have a chance at "big time."

The next three weeks were nightmares. Pitching in a broiling sun; running, jumping, sliding in dust. But Bob stuck it out.

More than once he saw his pitches sail far and away. His team mates were weeded out, one by one. Somehow he managed to stay. Burt and Ranch Dickee watched him occasionally. He heard Shott say: "I don't see what he's got, but recommended as he was, we'd better hang on to him a while longer. But with a name like Mathewson, he sure doesn't take after the original." And Bob's ears burned again.

When the season opened, Bob was sitting on the bench, fresh uniform, gleaming. A photographer ambled over. "Gonna pitch tomorrow, Mathewson?" "Hey, I'm talking to you, Mathewson."

Bob looked up. "Oh, me? Yeah. 'Cmon out. I want your picture." But Bob refused.

I think so." After a shaky start Bob settled down. Next batter up lofted an easy foul; Bob fanned the next two. He was on his way gaining confidence with every pitch.

September found Bob with a record of fifteen wins against eight losses. A good record. And yesterday Dickee had sent word that he wanted to talk to him. Dickee's laughter stopped. "Oh - oh," shuddered Bob, and braced his shoulders.

Betty, club stenographer, snapped her gum. "Here you go, big boy, and you'd better make it sound good."

The door closed behind him. "You wanted to see me, Mr. Dickee?"

Dickee came straight to the point. "Do you know a sports editor by the name of Bob Kohler - Bob Mathewson?" He emphasized the Mathewson sharply.

Bob colored. "Yes, sir. Very well, sir. In fact..."

Dickee stopped him. "This spring," he said, "you looked pretty putrid. We were going to let you go two or three times, but then we'd read over these letters and telegrams from a sports editor back in East Valley. They sounded so optimistic about your future that we kept you on."

Dickee paused and smiled. "Last week I wanted to show my appreciation to that kindly sports editor—you did prove valuable to us. So I sent him a check for the fifty dollars we usually pay our scouts as a bonus for uncovering a player."

"Well, yesterday that letter was returned, unopened. I couldn't figure it out until I glanced at the envelope again." He roared with laughter. Bob winced. "You old son-of-a-gun! You're Sports Editor Bob Kohler, aren't you? And to think that you fooled us by using the name of Mathewson!"

Bob felt weak in the knees. But he rallied in a hurry when he heard: "Well, Editor, here's your bonus check and a contract for next year. I like a guy who uses his head once in a while, especially if he comes highly recommended. Just sign on that lower line, Mr. Mathewson."

Which Makes Space Valuable To Buyers Of Advertising

Canadians in 1944 spent $35,283,000 for copies of daily and Sunday newspapers. That's an average of $678.519 a week or $2,940.250 a month.

All of which is eloquent testimony to the importance of newspapers in people's lives and the value of newspaper space to buyers of advertising.

An example of faith in newspaper advertising is the fact that R. H. Macy and Co., New York, used 45 per cent. of its advertising appropriation in newspapers. Its advertising in 1944 equalled 1,858 standard-size newspaper pages.

GARDEN NOTES

Fresh vegetables were worth real money last season, and there is no indication that there will be any change in the situation this summer. Not only are vegetable gardens found to be a worthwhile investment from the dollars and cents angle but indirectly in the way of healthy exercise, relief from war tension and unpurchasable garden freshness, it is simply impossible to estimate the dividends.

If the war plot is very tiny, authorities advise concentrating on those vegetables which give the highest yield. This means small, compact things like onions, carrots, beets, lettuce, radish, spinach, beans, and possibly a few stalked tomatoes. With the first five items even 10 feet by 10 feet will grow a lot of crop. Spinach and beans take a little more space, but 20 feet of row will furnish several meals.

The real role of the small garden should be to supply the owner with fresh salad material, lettuce, radishes, onions, etc., and as many meals as possible of really fresh vegetables during the summer.

One can get results quickly by using started or bedding plants. These may be secured from the nearest seed firm or florists or professional gardener. They are plants from seed sown indoors, usually in a hotbed or green house, and are well-grown when set outdoors as soon as danger from frost is over. They now come in a great variety of both flowers and vegetables.

Only by the use of certain started plants is it possible to get flowers and vegetables matured in some parts of Canada. Petunias, for instance, would hardly reach blooming stage in many parts of Canada if sown from seed outdoors. The same is true of tomatoes, and possibly of cabbage and other things. Onions, too, can be purchased as started plants and will mature weeks earlier than from seed. In transplanting these from the flats or baskets in which we buy them one should water well and if the sun is hot it is a good thing to provide a little shade for a day or two. Also if these plants are in flower or are very tall it is advisable to snip off flowers and pinch back main stems to encourage stocky growth.

NEW PROCESS BETTER

Pressing replaces hammering with a newly-invented hand-operated tool is used to drive home the close-fitting bolts used in airplane construction. The presser, which can be operated by women, resembles a pair of oversize pliers, and is constructed so that no damage is done to bolts, web or strut bearings.

Should Be Protected

Birds Are Invaluable As They Help To Control Insects

Insects are among the worst enemies of the human race. They destroy millions of dollars worth of farm crops annually in Canada, and their destruction of timber in the forests is also very heavy.

The officers of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and of the Forestry Branch are constantly working to reduce the damage from this cause. So far this applies particularly to boys and girls, the best help they can give is to protect the birds.

In some places in England owners have saved their planted forests by putting up bird-houses and inducing certain kinds of birds to come to the plantations. In Canada in the past insects have been kept in control by the birds. If the birds are destroyed or driven away, the insects multiply exceedingly and the farms and the forests suffer. Cats are inveterate bird killers and cat owners both in the city and country should be on the alert to prevent such destruction.

HAVE NO SKELETON

Insects do not have a skeleton in the true sense of the word as in the higher animals, but they have a tough outer covering shell, known as an exoskeleton. The muscles of the insect in general are attached to the exoskeleton and run from it to the appendages—legs, wings, antennae, mouth parts, and so on.

VALUABLE ASSET

The maple trees of Quebec are among the most valuable natural resources of that province. A great percentage of its vast production of maple sugar and maple syrup is exported to the United States in normal times.

Cure For Grumblers

Rebuke Given By Mrs. Roosevelt Could Apply To Canada

Complainers in the United States were given a pertinent reminder by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt when she commented that if they had to live on the British ration for a month they would be much more satisfied with what they have.

This admonition applies with almost equal force to Canadians. They may think they are making sacrifices if they have to deprive themselves of a few tid-bits, but a month on the British ration would prove a revelation. And when they would note that Britons have been living on that meagre fare for five years, then cure would be complete.

A FOUR-SCREW CARRIER

H.M.S. Indefatigable one of the four British fleet aircraft carriers which took part in attacks on enemy oil refineries in Sumatra at the beginning of the year, is the first four-screw carrier in the Royal Navy. Her four engines, together developing a total of more than 15,000 horsepower, are capable of raising a speed of considerably more than 30 knots. Each engine drives an independent shaft and propeller.
